

ABSTRACT

A method and system of providing educational streamed video of a meeting and a method and system for brokering educational audiovisual content are disclosed. Providing the streamed video includes cataloguing the video, receiving membership and other information from a person wishing to view the video, verifying the received information, determining a fee for accessing the video, charging the fee, receiving payment of the fee, transmitting the video to the person and distributing royalty payments to one or more parties. Payments may be made to the content provider, the organization of which the person is a member, a copyright holder, and/or a presenter of the streamed video. Brokering the content includes receiving content from a first entity, permitting a person that is not a member of the first entity to access the content for a fee, charging a fee for accessing the content to the person, and receiving payment of the fee.
